

THE WEST SWEEP BY STORMS

FROM THE MOUNTAINS TO THE GREAT LAKES

Terrific Storms Sweep Across Western Canada and the Central States—Wrecks on Inland Seas

Winnipeg, Nov. 28.—An immense storm is sweeping across Western Canada and the Central States, with the storm centre about the Twin Cities. The area between the Rockies and the Lakes is being blizzard struck in a fashion unusual of late at this time of year. In Southern Manitoba the snow fall seems to be at its worst and the vision could not penetrate more than four feet ahead. The thermometer is very low and wind blowing 25 miles an hour.

CRESCENT CITY ASHORE

Superior, Wis., Nov. 28.—The steamer Crescent City is ashore near Duluth. Several others, names unknown, are also ashore and being pounded by heavy seas.

The telephone wires are down here and there is six feet of snow on the streets. The wind is 40 miles per hour and traffic is suspended.

UNKNOWN STEAMER ASHORE

Port Washington, Wis., Nov. 28.—A large steamer is ashore four miles off. A heavy sea is running. A life boat and a tug have gone to the rescue from Milwaukee.

STEAMER IN TROUBLE

Two Hoquiam, Wis., Nov. 28.—A big steamer has been blowing signals of distress since 2 a.m. yesterday off the harbor here.

STORMY AT PORT ARTHUR

Port Arthur, Nov. 28.—The steamer Monarch was swept past the harbor in a snow storm and took five hours to get back to shelter. All outward bound boats have returned to port.

ROSEMOUNT GOES ASHORE

Port William, Nov. 28.—The steamer Rosemount is on the beach at the mouth of the Kaministiquia river.

BODY FOUND YESTERDAY ON THE C. N. R. TRACK

The body of James Patterson, a cattle-dealer, was found on the C. N. R. tracks near Belmont school house yesterday morning. The report of the discovery was brought to the Mounted Police barracks here and Constable Parker, accompanied by Dr. Braithwaite, drove out and brought the body in to the public hospital.

Dr. Braithwaite, coroner, decided that an inquest was necessary, as there was no doubt that the man had met death from the cold. Patterson had left Fort Saskatchewan Saturday to walk to Edmonton, on the railway track and it is supposed, he was overcome by fatigue and cold. The body had evidently been lying on the track for some time, as it was partly covered with snow when found.

Very little is known here of Patterson. It is understood he had been married only a year and that his wife lives at Duhamel, near Camrose. She has been communicated with and arrangements for the funeral will be made when word has been received from her.

SURVEYING THE HUDSON'S BAY ROAD

A Winnipeg despatch says. Surveyors are out for the Canadian Northern Co. to run lines from a point to the west of Wood on the main line, eventually to project a road to Fort Churchill, constituting the Hudson's Bay route, and fulfilling the dream of many who have believed in the feasibility of shipping Western Canada's grain by that route to the old country. It is likely that the survey parties now in the field will remain all winter.

One of the areas through which the proposed northward line will pass will be the Pas Minson country, which is said to be one of the finest timber areas in Western Canada. It is claimed that there are 1,000,000,000 feet of lumber in sight. The company will probably erect an up-to-date saw mill there, and place the product on the markets of Manitoba and the North West. It is believed that the line will be completed to the Pas next fall.

CURLING

The ice in the Curling Rink is rapidly being brought into shape and soon the roaring game will be in full swing once more. It behooves all the skips to get their rinks made up and handed to the secretary so that the various competitions may be commenced as soon as the ice is ready. The secretary will be glad to furnish the skips with a list of the new players. The skips for this year are: R. Secord, E. C. Emery, A. C. Fraser, J. R. Rae, S. Larue, W. A. Irwin, A. G. Harrison, R. Matz, Thos. Bellamy, R. Dewar, J. A. Stovel, H. Campbell, Jas. McDonald, G. J. Kinnaird, D. Galbraith, T. G. Lauder, J. C. Dowd, W. G. Ibbotson, A. E. Moore, J. H. Morris, J. B. Mercer, St. G. Jelfott, J. L. Studholme, Jas. Thom, J. K. Wize, E. C. Pardee, A. Carmichael.

JUST LIKE OURS

In an interview with the Prince Albert Times, Mr. Wilks Chipman is reported as saying: "I just want to illustrate to you what sedimentation will do," continued Mr. Chipman. "This water was taken from the river last August and contains nothing injurious. There is a little fine sand and some vegetation. The river banks are eroding in all the time. In places cliffs 100 ft. high have slipped into the water. The water therefore in the river carries a certain amount of sediment, especially in the summer months. The only way to get rid of this sediment is to pump the water into a basin, and let the water stand till the sediment settles. We will have a basin for this purpose at the pump house. Then the pure water will be pumped to the reservoir on the hill. This is exactly the same system that is in use at Edmonton and is being installed at Strathcona."

STANLEY CUP TEAM

COMES UP TO WINNIPEG

May be Induced to Visit Other Western Points During December

Ottawa, Nov. 28.—The Ottawa hockey club will go to Winnipeg during December. Today the manager received a letter from J. Terrill of Medicine Hat asking what arrangements could be made to get the Stanley cup holders to visit that place.

MUTINEERS HOLD SEBASTOPOL

St. Petersburg, Nov. 29.—The mutineers at Sebastopol are still masters of the situation and armed strikers parade and have free access to the city.

YOUNG FIELD DEAD

Chicago, Nov. 29.—Marshall Field Jr. died at the Mercy Hospital. He was the only son of Marshall Field, the multi-millionaire.

Premier Rutherford returned yesterday from Winnipeg. Manitoba weather was very variable during his stay there, a shower and a snow storm occurring in one day. Mr. Rutherford also spent several days in Saskatchewan in connection with the final settlement of the Territorial affairs. Saskatchewan is now in the election campaign and the indications are that the Government will be returned by a large majority.

EDMONTON LIVERY W. J. HORNER, Prop

Last Spike on the C. N. R.

(Winnipeg Free Press)

Almost twenty years ago to-day—to be exact, on November 7, 1885—a party of representative Canadian railroad and nation builders stood in a mountain-guarded spot to the west of the Columbia river, and watched the present Lord Strathcona drive the silver spike that linked the Atlantic and Pacific sections of the young Dominion by twin bands of steel. This successful completion of an enterprise that for years taxed to the uttermost the financial and political resources of Canada, was hailed, not merely throughout the Dominion, but in all parts of the world as a momentous occurrence. Queen Victoria sent a personal message of congratulation, and Imperial, federal and provincial governments saw therein the dawn of a new day of broader activities, wider horizons, and deeper nationalisms.

The ceremony which took place at Edmonton yesterday, when the northern capital was enfeited to welcome the coming of the Canadian Northern into Alberta was perhaps less significant from a national and Imperial point of view than that which occurred at Craigellachie two decades ago, but nevertheless it was one of vast import to Canada as a whole, and more particularly to its central and western portions. As a colonization and settlement road the newly completed main line to Edmonton will open up a territory teeming with potential agricultural wealth. Partial development of this rich region, it is true, has been proceeding side by side with the construction of the road. It will proceed much more rapidly, however, now that regular train service will shortly be inaugurated. The rich prairie homesteads rendered available for settlement by the building of the Canadian Northern will furnish homes for Canada's increasing army of immigrants that was beginning to exhaust the supply of the most desirable free-grant lands along the routes of older lines of travel. At intervals along the new road prosperous cities, towns and villages will spring up, built with the rapidity and solidity characteristic of the west, where the outlay of capital is based upon the sure knowledge of the splendid returns made by agriculture on an investment in land and labor. These towns and cities will furnish countless opportunities to mercantile, industrial and professional classes, just as the land does for the farmer, and the building of the road did for the laborer. The combined efforts of these workers in all departments of effort will inevitably result in giving a tremendous impetus to Western Canada—an impetus that will be manifested by rapid increases in population, wealth and commercial and agricultural importance, and in bringing yet further westward the centre of the national life of the Dominion.

While the completion of the line, of which Lieutenant-Governor Bulger drove the last spike yesterday will undoubtedly create many new and important towns along its route, it also has a direct bearing on the development and future of some of the oldest towns in Western Canada. To none is it more important than to Edmonton, which, though from the earliest times one of the principle commercial centres of the west, and being the trading centre of a region running north to the sub-Arctic, was yet approachable only by tedious and circuitous detours. Despite this disability, Edmonton has come to be regarded as the commercial metropolis of the far Northwest, and henceforth, owing to the completion of direct communication eastward, its claims in this regard will be practically unchallenged. The strides made in recent years by the northern capital toward realizing this destiny evidently designed for it by nature, have been, indeed, remarkable, and the improved transportation facilities it now possesses will certainly hasten its already rapid development.

By no community has the coming of the railway been desired so long and so ardently as at Battleford, the historic capital of the Territories. When the course of the Canadian Pacific was deflected southward, the settlers who had built up a town in the confident expectation that the transcontinental road would traverse it were left side-tracked more than a hundred miles from a roadhead. With fine tenacity they held on, developing their district in the face of transportation difficulties and absence of shipping and market facilities that would have daunted less courageous men. Hope deferred has made the hearts of the men of Battleford sick for many years, but now they have realized their desire, and the shriek of the locomotive is echoing along the stately stretches of the broad Saskatchewan.

To Winnipeg, the commercial metropolis and natural distributing centre of Northwest Canada, the building of the Canadian Northern to Edmonton also means much. The enlarged commercial area the development of the country opened up will create, will give to the wholesalers and general business community a new and profitable business territory, of which it will assuredly avail itself, while the fact that the mechanical headquarters of the company are located in the city, and the enlarged equipment necessary for the increased mileage, will be of benefit to skilled artisans and other labor.

The growth of the Canadian Northern, which is in reality a truly westward system, has been commensurate with that of the country from which it derives its business, and like the development of that country, has practically all taken place within the past decade. The system, which now possesses almost 2,500 miles of track, and extends from Lake Superior to the Rockies, was non-existent ten years ago. Originally it was but a colonization road, one hundred miles in length, built by Messrs. Mackenzie & Mann, under a provincial guarantee of $5,000 a mile given by the Greenway government, and running from Gladstone to Dauphin. After leasing the Northern Pacific lines in Manitoba, it pushed east and reached the lakes. Next it grew westward, and under the guarantee of the Dominion government, which promised security for the interest on $13,000 a mile from Grandview to Edmonton, the work of constructing the road, the successful completion of which was celebrated yesterday, was undertaken.

It would appear certain that, having built a road from the lakes to the mountains, the Canadian Northern will have no more operations at Edmonton. The company will in an all-out effort endeavor to carry the system through to Pacific tidewater, and compete with the C. P. R., the G. T. P. and the American roads for the Oriental trade. But whether or not this is done in the near future, the road as at present built is certain of a profitable business. The days of doubt and uncertainty in the west have long since passed away. Western Canada is no longer an experiment, commercial or agricultural. Two decades ago there were many who conscientiously believed that a single western Canadian railway meant ruin for those who were so unwise as to invest therein. Now there are two and their joint efforts are unable to cope with the business offered, in two or three years there will be a third, and when the rapidity with which population is pouring into the prairie country, is considered there is no doubt as to its success.

Though the last spike has been driven—at least for the present—on the Canadian Northern, it may be sprung before a permanent and regular service is established. There yet remain many important betterments to finish, and in a few months before it can be considered in proper running order. These betterments will undoubtedly be made as speedily as possible, and a few months should find the railway in a position to handle freight and passenger traffic with efficiency and despatch. But an enterprise of vital importance to Western Canada has been practically completed, and this is cause for congratulation throughout the whole of the immense territory intervening between the capitals of Manitoba and Alberta.

WINTER GENERAL

The wintry weather which set in a few days since appears to be general throughout the Province. Regarding the weather there the Calgary Herald says:

"Sunny Alberta" went out of business temporarily Saturday night, and now easterners have an opportunity of saying how much it reminds them of "down home."

"What is practically the first snow which has fallen in the city this year started Saturday night, and the storm continued all day yesterday. For the first snow of the season this fall is exceptionally heavy, but fortunately there was not much of a drop in temperature. There has been quite a lot of wind, though not at all approaching a blizzard. The storm first came from the east, but afterwards turned to the north and continued from that direction all day yesterday."

"Though the storm is a bad one, it is not anticipated that there will be any very serious damage to stock, as there was ample warning of its approach and ranchers had opportunity to prepare for it."

"The splendid weather which has favored the province up till now has given ranchers every opportunity to prepare for winter. As a well known rancher told the Herald Friday, while discussing the weather: 'If anyone is caught unprepared this year it is their own fault.' There was good hay and water and all the time necessary to test shelter prepared and the stock rounded up."

"Among the builders there will be some inconvenience as long as the snow lies. Many large buildings have been rushed ahead lately in preparation for the storm when it did come."

"It is not anticipated the present snow will lie long, as a few warm days or a little chinook would clear the greater part of it away. Contractors feel there will yet be time to complete their work, and it is regarded as a temporary inconvenience only."

"The storm has been reported as very general and railway traffic on the main line has been somewhat delayed. No 1 yesterday afternoon was very late. Railway work has been pushed along during the fine weather so that the officials are also in good shape for the winter."

"So, generally speaking, throughout the Calgary district there is not very much kick coming. When the snow stays off until practically the first of December we can afford to take what the weather man sends and look pleasant."

"The advantages of an open fall such as has favored Calgary this year are many. The army of workmen who have been able to pursue their outdoor occupations in the building trades means that much more money is in circulation, and workmen that much more credit."

"When the last cold snap came about a month ago, nearly everyone made preparations for winter, and the coal men were put on the hustle. There has not been very much doing in the coal trade since, that is, as far as a boom is concerned, and a great deal of the coal laid in then is still available to heat the homes of Calgary citizens."

"There are very few regrets from the ordinary consumer over the fact that coal merchants have not been prospering lately. But from now on trade in fuel and in stores which deal in winter necessities will be somewhat livelier."

Superfluous Hair

De Miracle

It is better than electricity, because it does not burn or produce new growth. It is better than electrolysis, because it does not burn, scar or cause the tissues under the skin. Better than depilatories, because it is not poisonous; because it will not cause blood poisoning, or produce eczema, which is so common with depilatories. It is the only hair breaker that does not break the hair, thereby increasing its growth.

Electrolysis, X-ray or depilatories are offered you on the bare word of the operators and manufacturers. De MIRACLE is not. It is the only method which is endorsed by physicians, surgeons, dermatologists, medical journals and prominent magazines.

De MIRACLE is mailed sealed in plain wrapper on receipt of $1.00. Your money back without question (no red tape) if it fails to do all that is claimed for it. Booklets sent free in plain sealed envelope upon request. Write for it today to De MIRACLE CHEMICAL CO., 25 Queen St. West, Toronto. For sale by THE ROBERT SIMPSON COMPANY, LIMITED, TORONTO, ONT.

HE BORROWED $700,000.
New York, Nov. 27.—One of the most interesting features of the life insurance investigation developed only a few minutes before the adjournment of the Armstrong Commission today, when Theodore F. P. Banta, late cashier of the New York Life Insurance Company, testified that about the beginning of 1901, Edmund D. Randolph, the treasurer of the company, opened the vaults of the company, removed $700,000, and put a check of the Central National Bank for $700,000 in its place.

Mr. Banta said he helped to open the vaults at the order of Mr. Randolph, and that he supposed Mr. Randolph acted for the finance committee.

The stock was kept out for a few days, and was then returned and the check withdrawn. The transaction was not recorded on the books of the company, so far as Mr. Banta knew.

The effect of the operation would be that anyone having that stock would have $700,000 worth of unissued property at the end of the year. Mr. Banta did not know who received the stock. Mr. Randolph is expected to be one of the witnesses tomorrow.

Much evidence was given by both Mr. Perkins and President McCall about the New York Security and Trust Company's participation in the United States Steel Corporation syndicate to the extent of $3,350,000, and having the deposits in the New York Life Insurance Company for about that amount. The New York Life got about 75 per cent. of the profits and Mr. Perkins contended that it was a safe and profitable venture. President McCall said the New York Life Insurance Co. should have participated directly instead of indirectly.

Happy at Last

Her husband no longer gets intoxicated—Samaria Tasteless Remedy Cured Him.

This lady says: "For the first time since I have been married I can be happy and content—my husband is cured of his bad habit of drinking. Several months ago you sent me a free sample of your remedy at my request, and without my husband's knowledge I gave it to him to take and food. I then got a full treatment and gave it regularly. It is wonderful, and I cannot sufficiently thank you for the blessed change it has brought to my home."

THE G. T. P. SURVEY

(Saskatoon Times)
"Where there's a will there's a way," is as true in railroad surveying as in any other sphere of life. And the combined wills of Hon. H. R. Emmerson and General Manager Frank Moore behind the surveyors has resulted in the finding of a line right into Saskatoon. The crossing of the Saskatchewan will be made about two hundred yards above the C. P. R. bridge.

Mr. J. Armstrong, divisional engineer of the Grand Trunk Pacific, who has been surveying through Saskatoon with a large party for the past week, endeavoring to bring the G.T.P. line closer into town, has, with his men, succeeded in their task. The line skirts the C. P. R. tracks from Nutana adding and crosses the river at Mr. S. A. Clark's house. The route thus secured gives the road a four-tenths grade and brings the line close to, a primary object with the management at Montreal. The length of the road is increased between two and three miles by the new route. The new line will be submitted to Mr. Moore and the Government for their approval, but it is considered very likely they will sanction it.

This survey was completed on Tuesday night. Mr. Baird, in charge of the party during the last stake. Mr. Armstrong will send this party overland to a point about twenty-one miles west, and after completing some work there, they will move westward to Edmonton along the survey.

The route thus secured into the heart of Saskatoon is the only available course to be found compatible with good grades and distance. When it strikes the river the embankment will be about six feet above the level and the height is gradually reduced until the line strikes the school section. The choice of the two surveys now remains, with the management, but it was at Mr. Moore's request that the last survey was made.

Saskatoon will be the natural divisional point for the railroad. Its water facilities, so essential to a railroad centre, are unexcelled. Between Winnipeg and Saskatoon it is said in official circles, there will be two divisional points. These have not yet been fixed, and their location will depend chiefly upon the style of engine used by the transcontinental.

Mr. Armstrong expects the survey work of his division to be fully completed by Christmas. Mr. Ord, of the eastern division, is working west and is expected to reach Saskatoon in a day or two. He is acting right of way man for the system and will report on the probable acreage necessary for expropriation, setting a valuation upon it.

Construction work on the prairie section will be commenced early in the spring and a large force of men will be put on the work under Contractor Malcolm McMillan whose outfits have already done extensive grading west of Portage la Prairie.

The Play

"Francesca da Rimini" a thrilling Italian tragedy was the closing bill of Harold Nelson's engagement here. As usual the company was greeted by a crowded house whose appreciation was marked by frequent hearty applause. Mr. Nelson as Lancelotto had a part for which he was eminently qualified and which he portrayed in masterly manner. Miss Scott as Francesca represented the part to the life and fully sustained her splendid reputation. Mr. Bruce appeared as the court jester. Though not usually found in comedy roles, Mr. Bruce impersonated the clown splendidly and in the deeper passages of the play when frivolity gives way to vengeance his dramatic power appeared to splendid advantage. Miss Patterson as Francesca's maid introduced the lighter vein of the part with splendid effect. Mr. Blake as Count Paolo presented a difficult part exceptionally well.

The costumes and scenery were excellent and the lighting effects good.

If you want a first class up to date Cast Iron Range that has been a winner for many years, we have the "Happy Thought." There is no other of this Range in use than any other on Range in Canada, and no person has ever heard of a poor one. Then, if you want an all steel and malleable iron range, we have the "Monarch." You cannot break this range, and it has a mirror polished top which makes it a thing of beauty to look at as well as to use.

For any up to date line of heating stoves we think we have them all beat. It is not a case of you having to take what we have, our assortment justifies us in saying you can get just what you want from us.

We have from the smallest to the largest heating stoves in any style and for any purpose, to burn both coal and wood, or both. The prices are made to suit the pockets of all, and while we make only a very small profit on each stove we think the quantity we sell justifies us in saying that we can sell on so close a margin and still hold our own. We have everything in Stove Trimmings, and first class Mechanics to deliver and put them up. Do not waste time in king all over the city, but come direct to us.

INSPECTED THE G. T. P. ROUTE

Ottawa, Nov. 22.—Collingwood Schreiber has prepared his report on the location of the route of the Grand Trunk Pacific from Touchwood Hills to Edmonton, the whole question has been referred to a meeting of the cabinet before the plans are adopted. Yet they have been carefully looked over by some of the ministers and the route has been practically agreed upon. When in the West Mr. Schreiber got the views of Mr. Emerson. The principal change will be that the line will go north Saskatchewan than shown in the plans. It is not likely that the route will be very materially changed at Edmonton. As soon as the cabinet passes upon the plans they will go to the railway commission. The railway commission has already decided that it cannot greatly change the plans once they are adopted by council.

WILL SOON BE EXTINCT

(Canadian manufacturers have been almost unanimous in asking the Tariff Commission for more protection.)

The dodo and the great auk, too, have passed away for aye. And not a living mammoth walks upon this mundane day.

Before the flood huge creatures reared upon earth's surface wide.

But everyone has long ago lain down and calmly died.

Where has the pterodactyl gone, that creature winged and strange,

Which through the air and through the sea at one time used to range?

What use to ask for no man lives whose memory takes him back

To early days when he could hear a pterodactyl quack.

Where is the megatherium, the giant pterosaur?

Alas! they're gone, and we shall see their lovely forms no more;

And then the ichthyosaurus, too, you see it for yourselves.

What's left of it in cases huge on the museum's shelves.

Alas! likewise the dinosaur has long since lived its span.

And never more will walk abroad to prey on living man.

These few, 'tis true, went long ago, but scientists all say

That work goes on and species rare are vanishing away.

Poor, helpless creatures of the earth, they vanish one by one,

While white men bag rare specimens with deadly loaded gun.

This is a fact that every man most easily may know,

Who was it, we arise to ask, killed off the buffalo?

Then there is one more animal which with the past is linked,

Which we regret to note with grief will shortly be extinct;

No monitor this of shagreened shape whose look would cause surprise,

Alas! ah, no, this creature rare appears in human guise.

We grieve to see them going, too, they had a useful side,

But sordid greed has killed 'em off by thickening their hide;

And soon they, too, will pass for aye unto the silent shore.

Protected manufacturers who do not ask for more.

"Last winter I coughed for three months and thought I was going into Consumption. I took all sorts of medicine, but nothing did me any good until I used Shiloh's Consumption Cure. From that time I had a very bad cold, was not able to sleep, my lungs were sore on the side and back. Six bottles of Shiloh made me well again. Pharaoh Cigar.

As soon as it arrives at my factory I place it in humidors built for the purpose. The tobacco is kept here for from two to three years at a temperature and humidity which as nearly as possible correspond with the climatic conditions of the Island of Cuba.

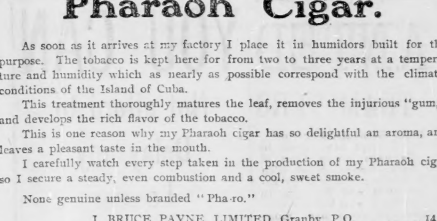

This treatment thoroughly matures the leaf, removes the injurious "gum," and develops the rich flavor of the tobacco.

This is one reason why my Pharaoh cigar has so delightful an aroma, and leaves a pleasant taste in the mouth.

I carefully watch every step taken in the production of my Pharaoh cigar so I secure a steady, even combustion and a cool, sweet smoke.

—Calgary Herald: In building operations alone this year the Canadian Pacific Railway company has spent in Calgary $91,500. With the money which has been spent in track work in the Calgary yards, their expenditure will run into very large figures. There have been four buildings erected which make up the above figures. Back of the round house the new car shops have been erected at a cost of $150,000. Six new stalls which have been added to the round house account for another $15,000. New ice houses south of the track, where the supply for the coaches is stored, have been built at a cost of $3,000. No better evidence can be offered of the shipping trade of the city than the size of the new freight sheds which the company have found necessary to build in the right of way on the north side of the track, between Second and Third streets east. The sheds will be 600 feet long when finished. About half of it is almost ready for occupation now, and the other section will be finished before the first of the year. The total cost will be $28,000.
